

When making plans to visit Philadelphia we hope you will consider using the Union League of Philadelphia as your home away from home. Our newly renovated Platinum hotel, the Inn at the League, has 84 guest rooms and suites and is centrally located on Philadelphia's Avenue of the Arts.

A new addition to the League's team of talented professionals is award-winning Executive Chef Martin Hamann. Martin is a classically trained chef with over 25 years of experience and was instrumental in the planning of our new restaurants: 1862 by Martin Hamann and Founders. While staying at the League Martin and his team will provide you with the highest level of culinary excellence in all three of our restaurants.

Truly in a class by itself, the Inn offers an incomparable mix of distinctive history, old world hospitality and modern amenities. Many of our first time guests have referred to us as the "best kept secret in Center City Philadelphia."
